REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE LIBRARY

Honourable Stewart E. McLean, Q.C.
Minister i/c of Libraries and Historical Research.

Sir:

I have the honour to present the report of the Legislative Library for the calendar year 1963. The report of the Archives Branch and the library serving the Departments of Health and Public Welfare follow. The report of the Director of Library Services is a separate report and is appended hereto.

REFERENCE AND GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

Research inquiries differed from other years in quantity only. Business corporations as well as government officials were compiling information on economic future, manpower, social security, taxation, transportation, finance, parole probation, lotteries, natural resources, flood control and industry, education, labour relations, outdoor recreation facilities, traffic control. Study groups requested material on such varied topics as international relations, peace, world government, Indians and Eskimos, history - national, international, and local. There were inquiries made of every province's statistics and those of Canada and some United States. All provinces' annual reports were perused more thoroughly. Complex statistical information was required embracing Canada and the World markets.

Informational writers and research staff on assignment for their departments were more numerous.

Reorganization of the government documents section on first floor stacks is drastically behind schedule. Document collection consists of United States, United Nations, Canadian and provincial government reports, statutes, Congressional record, special committees. The output of government printing presses has been augmented and space requirements necessitate a completely new floor plan to enable all governments to be shelved together and in logical order. When this work is completed accessibility of these documents will provide for more efficient use.

A total of 1,218 Manitoba Government annual and special reports were forwarded to 79 libraries in Canada, the Commonwealth, United States, and the Library of the United Nations. The number of titles distributed was 25 with 28 libraries receiving the full set.

NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS

151 Weekly Manitoba newspapers have been microfilmed to date comprising a total of 1,343 reels. The time is slowly arriving when the back numbers of all newspapers will be on film from the beginning of publication to 1959. This coming year may see the filming of these back issues completed and a start made on the current issues of 1959-1963. Microfilm facilitates the handling and storage of these papers.

The "Weeklies" were formerly bound in three year periods and weighed approximately 15 - 25 pounds and occupied 4,455 cubic inches each. It is possible to get three years of these papers on one reel of microfilm occuping 24 cubic inches. The wear and tear of the paper editions is considerable. These factors plus the natural disintegration process make microfilm a necessity. Microfilming while most of these issues are in fairly good condition assures that we have a permanent record of the social, economic, industrial and historical records of the cities, towns, villages and rural municipalities in Manitoba. The library subscribes to 102 weekly Manitoba newspapers. The total number of papers on microfilm will exceed this amount as many older ones have ceased publication.

The library subscribes to 134 newspapers and 276 periodicals. The latter figure excludes those periodicals issued by the Canadian, United States and Provincial governments.

Mention of one staff member is not advisable in an annual report but it would be remiss not to speak of the work Miss Clementine Combaz performed when the Bibliotheque Regionale Jolys Regional Library (St. Pierre) was established. In addition to her duties in the Provincial Library she selected, ordered and catalogued 3,500 books in French and English. This, of course, necessitated hours of overtime, including weekends, far above the line of duty. She is to be highly commended for her determination to secure the best for this regional library.

If regional library development continues at this speed additional staff, professional and clerical, is required. Clerical assistance is needed in any event.

A statistical summary follows this report.

Marjorie Morley

REPORT OF THE ARCHIVES

Honourable Stewart E. McLean, Q.C.,
Minister i/c of Libraries and Historical Research.

Sir:

I have the honour to present the report of the Archives for the Calendar year 1963.

REFERENCE AND RESEARCH

Mr. Hartwell Bowsfield, the Provincial Archivist, was granted a year's educational leave to complete the research necessary for a doctoral thesis on Manitoba's settlement and entry into Confederation. In his absence, the reference and research work of the Archives branch was handled by his assistant.

Research projects which required more than routine attention during the past year included extensive assistance given to an Ontario author for her forthcoming book on Manitoba's historic sites, two historical displays for the Parent-Teacher Association of Manitoba at the time of the Association's National Convention in Winnipeg, help with the script and visual matter connected with a schools telecast of the fur trade era, lengthy and continuous research aid given to the Public Relations Department of the Manitoba Telephone System, and the provision of historical material and research on technical education in Manitoba to a Winnipeg advertising firm.

During this past year, the Archives Branch undertook several research projects connected with the rapidly approaching centennial celebrations of 1967 and 1970. Considerable time was given to providing a Winnipeg architect with background information concerning the possible restoration of Lower Fort Garry. Other centennial projects were concerned with the history of trucking in Canada, and with the development of the Bank of Montreal in Western Canada.

As a centre of reference and research for the general public and for the various departments of the Provincial Government, the Archives Branch dealt with 594 personal callers, 332 correspondents, and 1032 telephone requests regarding historical material, pictures, Public Records, the Historic Sites Advisory Board, and the Manitoba Historical Society. 335 individuals had access to the Archives manuscript holdings. 11 % of the entire total represents the use made of the Archives Branch by government departments.

Because the Manitoba Historical Society occupies office space within the Archives section of the Legislative Library, the archives staff has become increasingly involved in the activities and direction of this private organization. The archival staff handles all the research enquiries directed to the Society and in the absence of the Society's corresponding secretary, answers telephone calls, receives visitors, and accepts donations and fees on behalf of the Society. This is in addition to proof-reading some of the Society's out-going correspondence, occasionally verifying its financial figures, and of advising, when frequently asked to do so, on administrative matters with which the executive of the Society should normally deal. During the past year, the Archives dealt with approximately 225 individuals either in person, or by telephone, or through correspondence concerned only with various aspects of the Historical Society's activities.

ACCESSIONS

The papers of William James Sisler (1870 - 1956) noted Winnipeg educator, were presented to the Archives by Mrs. W.J. Sisler. Mr. Sisler, a native of Ontario, came to the West as a young man. Before he became principal of Winnipeg's newly opened Strathcona School in 1905, Mr. Sisler taught in seven rural schools of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. In 1923, he became the first principal of Isaac Newton School in Winnipeg. The greater part of his professional life was devoted to North Winnipeg's educational problems which resulted from the influx of Central European immigrants in the early part of this century. His "direct method" of teaching English to New Canadians attracted widespread attention, and his book on this system was first published in 1916. After his retirement, Mr. Sisler published his Peaceful Invasion in which he portrayed his experiences in assisting the integration of New Canadian into the life of their adopted country, and in which he revealed himself as a strong advocate of a Canadian culture. The William J. Sisler Collection contains much of the background material, correspondence, notes, interviews, and personal reminiscences gathered by Mr. Sisler during his lifetime interest in Manitoba's Central European settlers.

Mr. S. H. Matheson and Mrs. C.H. Goulden deposited with the Archives the Henderson Family Papers. This collection contains the personal correspondence and business papers of Samuel Henderson (1875 - 1948) and his sister, Mary Henderson (1881 - 1963), descendents of one of Winnipeg's earliest pioneer families.

The papers of Freeman Henry Hetherington Lowe (- 1958) of Ninette, Manitoba were placed in the Archives by his daughter, Mrs. K.C. Offer. In 1882, Mr. Lowe left Kingston, Ontario, to take up farming in the Ninette area. The collection contains Mr. Lowe's personal correspondence from 1884 to 1954 and his journals and account books from 1862 to 1958.

REPORTS OF HEALTH AND WELFARE DEPARTMENT

Miss Marjorie Morley,
Provincial Librarian,
Legislative Building.

Madam:

I have the honor to submit the 1963 annual report of the Departments of Health and Welfare Library.

This past year brought changes to the Departments of Health and Welfare which in turn affected the Library. Care Services, a joint project of the two Departments to meet the needs of Manitoba's aged population, is now operating in new offices located outside of the Norquay Building. Care Services has acquired one Unit of Student Social Workers as well as a number of professional health and welfare staff members. The removal of this group to the new location has affected the use of library facilities since time does not permit many of the staff to visit the Library. The loss of one Student Unit to Care Services is also quite noticeable in our statistics. In an attempt to maintain contact with the program and the needs of Care Services, the Librarian visited the offices and met with the directors, Dr. William Watt and Mr. Bert Waterer. The basic arrangements for establishing a collection of books, pamphlets and periodicals were discussed. The Health Department provides funds to purchase whatever is required for the public health staff. It is hoped that some funds will be made available by the Department of Welfare for the social workers.

The Library had fairly wide coverage in the field of aging before the establishment of Care Services and this collection will be maintained to cover the needs of the new Division.

In the 1962 annual report, mention was made of the proposed dissolution of the Bureau of Maternal and Child Health. This has not taken place and therefore the periodical subscriptions for this Bureau are still paid by the Department of Health. Fortunately, the Library did not have to assume this expense.

The Department of Welfare formed a new division entitled the Multi-Problem Project. This Project, patterned on the St. Paul (Minnesota) Family Centered Project, has Mr. Leon Glassco as its Director. Mr. Glassco visited the Library to inspect its resources and also to advise the Librarian on the selection of literature for this new Project. Mr. Alastair Ross, the recently named Supervisor of Child Welfare Services, appeared in the Library shortly after his appointment and has shown considerable interest in this service. For the first time since the Community Development Services became a Division of the Department of Welfare, the staff of that office are ordering material through this Library. The staff of this Division have made much greater use of the Library this year than before. Unfortunately, at the end of December, the Division was moved to new offices in the Milk Control Board Building. The Librarian hopes that sufficiently firm ties have been established with Community Development Services and that the staff will continue to use their Library.

In addition to these very welcome signs of acceptance by the Department of Welfare, the Librarian was very pleased to see that a large group of new Welfare Workers was brought into the Library during their orientation period. This was done not only for those in the Norquay Building, but also for the workers from Care Services. A most unexpected and gratifying sight. In previous years, the Librarian has felt that the Library was not accepted as a part of the Department of Welfare and was usually ignored except when services were required. It has taken three years to achieve this much acceptance from the administrative level.

The Division of Fitness and Amateur Sport in the Department of Welfare is now well established. During 1963, the Library processed all the Division's orders for books, pamphlets and journals. As the year drew to a close, the Division's program was reviewed and in view of the fact that the majority of their orders were for free distribution (in the same manner as the Department of Health's Bureau of Health Education) the Librarian suggested that the Division assume the ordering of their own pamphlets. The Library will be willing to advise as to the proper procedures. Mr. Miller, the Director, agreed that this was the proper function of his office and has directed his staff to process all the Division's orders.

The Student Unit of Social Workers, placed in Juvenile and Family Court, continue to use library facilities. Aside from this Unit and the two placed with the Department of Welfare and the staff on study leave, no other student social workers are permitted to borrow from this Library during the School year. This restriction follows the pattern set in 1962. The Librarian recommends that a set of regulations stating the policy of this Library be compiled and distributed throughout the Departments. A set should be posted in a conspicuous location in the Library.

A considerable amount of work remains to be done for and with the Department of Welfare. The Librarian must keep informed of new programs, the development of existing programs and also attempt to forsee the need for material on subjects that may become important in the near future. Only by personal contact with the administrative staff of this Department can this be accomplished.

In 1963, the Department of Health continued its practice of being the best informed Provincial Health Department in Canada. Under the leadership of Dr. J.B. Morison, Director of Health, an ever increasing number of pertinent reports, journal articles and books were circulated throughout the Department. Dr. Morison has made the Library a vital part of his administration in that he utilizes its facilities fully and encourages his staff to do likewise. It is due to Dr. Morison's keen interest in all phases of public health that the Library established a small and informal registry of interpreters and translators. This registry, which depends wholly on the good will of the talented individuals concerned, enabled the Library to provide a number of translations for Dr. Morison, Mr. Ward, Chief Chemist, for the Public Health Engineers and for the Canadian Public Health Association. In one instance this Library was able to donate to the National Research Council (Ottawa) a translated paper which previously was unavailable in an English version. In addition, an increasing number of technical papers, translated from the original language into English were obtained from the National Research Council, the Office of Technical Services (U.S.) and from British and European sources. These were ordered for the use of the Department's Chemists, Public Health Engineers and Medical Staff.

As in previous years, the Department of Health conducted two Prenatal Institutes, and one Health Education Workshop. Special library collections were provided for each of these.

The Manitoba Hospital Commission continued to use this Library to supplement its own holdings. Other Departments using the Health and Welfare Library were: Department of Mines and Natural Resources; Department of Industry and Commerce; Juvenile and Family Court; Department of Agriculture; City Health Department; the University of Manitoba Schools of Nursing Education and the School of Social Work; the Medical College; Dental College; Great West Life Library; the University Library. The number of interlibrary loans both to and from this Library increased again this year. Since the Library commenced recording its holding with the National Library, several interlibrary loans were made to libraries in other provinces.

The Librarian attended the Canadian Public Health Association Conference held in May and the Canadian Library Association Conference in June. Both of these conferences, which took place in Winnipeg, provided valuable opportunities to form and maintain professional contacts with future sources of information.

A complete set of the Hearings of the Royal Commission on Health Services was deposited in the Library by Dr. Hugh Malcolmson, Assistant to the Deputy Minister of Health and approval of this deposit was granted by the Minister of Health, the Honorable George Johnson, M.D. It is hoped that an index to these submissions will be compiled in the coming year.

For the first time in five years, binding of journals became necessary. The last bound volumes were dated 1955 and this resulted in seven volumes of each selected periodical being processed this year. The expense involved was unexpected but unavoidable.

In addition a number of soft cover books were rebound since they were heavily used and too weak in their original binding to survive for more than four circulations. The Librarian recommends that a policy of binding journals and possibly, the most important reports be considered for the coming year.

In this report, the Librarian wishes to express her thanks for the assistance received from the Provincial Library, the Medical College Library, the University of Manitoba Library, the Dental College Library, the Department of Agriculture Library, the Winnipeg Public Library and the National Research Council Library.

Respectfully submitted.

Patricia O'Day

Rural Municipality of South Cypress	24	141		defeated
Rural Municipality of Argyle	147	418		defeated

The above municipalities voted to establish libraries in their municipalities. Glenboro was the only affirmative vote and that village will proceed towards the formation of a library within the framework of the Lakeland Regional Library system with headquarters in Killarney. The municipal council appoints members to the Regional Library Board which administers the regional library system of Lakeland. It will enlarge that area by 797. Lakeland Regional Library now serves a population of 4,528 (1961 census). The establishment grant for the additional municipality is $2,000.00 . The annual maintenance grant is $2,000.00 .

	For	Against	Rejected
Rural Municipality of Assiniboia	1,010	483	27	passed
Rural Municipality of Charleswood	1,127	643		passed

This vote paved the way for the establishment of a new regional library which will serve a combined population (1961 census) of 12,331. The library board is appointed jointly by the two municipalities and an establishment grant of $10,000.00 is payable after April 1, 1964.

	For	Against
Rural Municipality of Portage la Prairie	738	1,136	defeated

The first by-law in Portage la Prairie (city and rural municipality) was in 1961. At that time the City voted favourably but it was rejected in the Rural Municipality.

Interest in the regional system of libraries has been shown in Baldur, Cartwright, Grandview, Roblin, Morden, Winkler, Notre Dame de Lourdes, Pilot Mound, Gimli, Brandon, McDonald, Pinawa and Thompson. Meetings have taken place in these areas with the exception of Gimli, Pinawa, and Thompson. The initial Gimli meeting is to be in January, 1964. Pinawa and Thompson are Local Government Districts and no provision for libraries for this type of governmental unit is included in the Public Libraries Act.

Supervisory calls were made to all rural regional libraries, either by the Director or by Miss Joan Gauer.

AMENDMENTS TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARIES ACT

Permissive legislation was enacted to:

(1) increase membership on Municipal and Regional Library Boards.

(2) merge two or more regional libraries.

(3) merge a municipal library with a regional library.

GRANTS

Grants remained the same for 1963.

ADMINISTRATIVE GRANTS

In addition to the monetary grants, the rural regional libraries plus the Transcona Public Library receive the following professional and clerical services from the Provincial Library staff.

1) Selection of books which is a professional service.
2) Ordering of books and typing of orders on individual order forms provided by the libraries - a clerical service.
3) Cataloguing and classifying of all books - professional service.
4) Duplication of catalogue cards and forwarding to each library– clerical service.
5) Maintenance of a union catalogue, author and shelf list, of all books in these libraries. Each card in this catalogue is coded with the name of the library which has the book. This catalogue is essential for the following purposes.
   (a) Eliminates duplication of order
   (b) Interlibrary loan
   (c) Selection of rotation books
   (d) Shelf list indicates the breadth and depth of a subject classification, e.g. history, science, literature, etc.
6) Rotation book orders. These books are in addition to the books ordered for the permanent collection. Book selection is a professional service while the actual ordering is a clerical one. The libraries receive, at present, 340 new books on each semi-annual rotation date.
